Pastor's Lines

Dear Church Family,

I was listening to the radio the other day, and the person on/in the radio was espousing the notion that our lives are enriched by what we do for others. "We will find joy in happiness by giving some of our resources to worthwhile causes", he continued. I certainly agree with his initial premise. However, I don't remember the charities the radio person was promoting, but I do remember what he was NOT promoting. He was NOT promoting any giving to the local church. It's almost like the church is overlooked as a viable object of "make a difference" giving. I suggest that the local church should be a primary place for giving, because of the impact the local church can make in people's lives. Let me encourage you to give through the local church.

Through the local church, the Bible is taught for daily living. Through the local church families have a place to connect to one another and to other families...doing life together. Through the local church, hungry people are fed, missionaries are sent, souls are won to faith in Jesus. Through the local church, prayers are offered for all kinds of needs. Through the local church, generations meet for mutual growth and encouragement. Through the local church, music is shared and taught. Through the local church, memories are made. Through the local church, people have fun.

Speaking of fun, we are fast approaching the beginning of Vacation Bible School. Preparations are being made for one of the most important days of the year. I hope you are planning to help in Vacation Bible School in some way. We still need workers, and when 300 people show up for VBS, even crowd control is important. Please pray for VBS, and help any way you can. You can even give a special offering to assist in the cost of VBS.

Blessings,

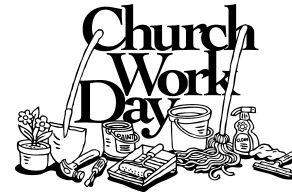

Dr. j

Ps Jo and I will be in Birmingham for a few days attending the Southern Baptist Convention. We will see you Wednesday for the Business Meeting.

Re Group Conference August 17
Trinity Baptist Church, Lake Charles

This is an excellent opportunity I want us to attend. The LBC has assembled an amazing team for a regional meeting. You and I will have the chance to meet David Apple, Allan Taylor and David Odom. These are top shelf guys when it comes to leading groups whether it's Sunday School or Discipleship. Last year John Sandiferd attended with me. "I'm really glad I went, it helped me in ways I had not considered." I would like us all to experience this and get the affirmation as teachers at the start of another year in Bible
