As I pondered how to write this, two songs had been on my heart for a couple of weeks: "It's an Honor to Serve" and "The Longer I Serve Him the Sweeter He Grows." God has blessed me through this church since early 1962 (when I came from another church). Wonderful teachers taught my young family and helped them to come to salvation. One of my children has taught Sunday School here for about 20 years. The other two serve in other churches. The Lord through this church has allowed me to serve on almost every committee in the church (except maybe the kitchen committee.) The Lord through this church has allowed me to teach every age group from Bed Babies to Senior adults. It was a blessing to be in the choir for many years. Through this church my husband came to know Christ. Thankfully, God has used me to teach VBS for the past 30+ years since I retired. . For the past many years and currently the Lord has allowed me to play the piano for our school and for the Jeff Davis Living Center Singalong.

The years have flown. I am so thankful for the young people to whom we have passed the torch. A major part of my life now is to be a prayer warrior. Wherever God seeks to use me is where I want to be.

In Christ,
